

Chloe Volkman

School of Applied Studies

Bachelors in Health Service Administration

Chloe is a first generation student. She wasn't sure what the future would hold for her when she first considered college. What Chloe did know was that Washburn quickly became a second home where she felt supported, challenged, and also inspired. Chloe is proud to have graduated from Washburn's PTA program and earned her bachelor's degree in Health Service Administration. Chloe currently works at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Kansas full time in the federal employee program claims unit. In the future she hopes to work in either talent acquisition or career building in their HR department.
