

Jeremy Ford

College of Arts & Sciences

Bachelor of Arts

Since his first day as an Ichabod, Jeremy looked for ways to get involved in the campus community. He served as a Student Ambassador, Peer Educator, Editor-in-Chief for the Washburn Review, President of the Mass Media Club and a Discipleship Leader for Called to Greatness. Additionally, Jeremy served at Community Church as a media volunteer and video coordinator. In each of these roles, he gained invaluable experience on the importance of interpersonal relationships and the impact they have on every aspect of our lives. After graduation, Jeremy plans to return to his small but dearly loved hometown of Phillipsburg, Kansas, to work full-time as a youth minister and part-time as a substitute teacher.