

2026-2027 Bonner Leader Application

About Bonner

The Bonner Leader Program model “access to education and opportunity to serve” combined with Washburn University motto, "Not for Ourselves Alone," allows students to gain practice with community-based experiences, mentorship, and training and enrichment activities as members progress through a developmental model of civic leadership. The Bonner Leader Program at Washburn is part of the Aleshire Center for Leadership and Community Engagement alongside a larger Bonner network of colleges and universities supported by the Bonner Foundation in Princeton, NJ. This provides national opportunities for students during both their time in the program and after graduation.

The program model is cohort-based (approximately 15 students per cohort) and developmental (integrating experiential, curricular, and co-curricular service and learning leading to a capstone community-engagement project and a culminating reflection presentation). New Bonners are intentionally involved in the Pre-Bonner experience that provides a variety of service sites and activities to provide a smooth transition. This transition helps them identify their passions and make a long-term commitment to a particular place (community), site, and issue areas.

Bonners serve in schools, nonprofit organizations, and governmental agencies to address community identified needs and to tackle issues like education, safe and affordable housing, food insecurity, college access and youth development, environmental sustainability, and so on. Students identify, develop, and integrate service and civic engagement passions, academic studies, and career interests.
